The project involves the development and upgrade of the a 120-kilometer coastal highway linking the cities of Tolmeitha and Susa, taking into account the region's hydrological studies and catchment outlets. Works cover constructing 14 bridges, excavating 15 channels, and performing rock cutting along a 21-kilometer stretch of the road. In addition, service points will be added to provide essential amenities, enhance comfort and convenience for road users, improve safety, and ensure smoother traffic flow which in turns will support the local economy and promote domestic tourism.
